

Strule Shared Education Campus is a significant infrastructure programme which will considerably alter how traffic operates in Omagh.

To understand and plan for this change, the Department of Education appointed a dedicated specialist team to develop the best possible solution for both the campus and Omagh.

Extensive Transport Assessments measuring both the impact of Strule and other development proposals in the area have been produced in close collaboration with the Department for Infrastructure (DfI).

This detailed assessment considered the origin and destination of trips to and from Strule Shared Education Campus. To minimise the impact significant enhancements to the road network around the campus will be implemented.

DfI Roads has already begun work on Strathroy Link Road to provide an alternative connection to Derry Road. This work is due for completion before the campus opens in 2021.

DfI Roads has also appointed a design team to progress the Gortin Road widening scheme which will begin in 2018, subject to planning. This scheme will facilitate smooth operation of the campus, allowing for drop off and pick up along the Gortin Road without obstructing the free flow of traffic.
